Dear Jack,

Thank you ever so much for the copy of editorial number 142. I passed both it and the two interesting responses you got from listeners up to the boss.

I don't think we want to take advantage of your friendly offer right now but the time may arise.

It was good meeting you and all the other RKO folks at Frank Shakespeare's gathering.

If there is anything we can do for any of your people in the way of substantive briefings, don't hesitate to give us a call.

Sincerely,

/s/ Angus MacLean Thuerner

Dear Angus:

As promised during our telephone conversation today, I am enclosing the editorial dealing with the Central Intelligence Agency which was aired on WRKO the week of February 9th. I am also enclosing xeroxes of two responses from our listeners. I am sure you will find their comments interesting.

Should somebody in the agency wish to amplify or respond to the editorial, please let me know and I will make the necessary arrangements.

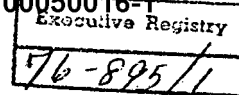

Cordially,

John Hobbs

Murray Gart is the one who cancelled -- when we gave him the implications of the story -- a piece about CIA Chiefs of Stations:

'twas to have been a little series of thumbnail sketches. Horrible.

We have been able to help Time on a corporate basis, as it were, when their businessmen junkets around the world have taken place. Gart was terrible concerned about the businessmen's security in Middle East, for example. Our people kept alert.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Time Magazine Invitation

Jerry Schecter, diplomatic editor of Time magazine, called today.

He said the top editors of Time magazine invite you (and me) to an off-the-record lunch with them on Monday, 23 February. This is the day you will be going up for the foreign policy meeting.

This is a meeting I think you should go to.

Dear Sandy,

I deeply regret having to write to let you know that I will not be able to attend the annual Radio-Television Gallery dinner on March 25th.

I am most disappointed that I will be unable to join you for what promised to be a most enjoyable evening.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]

Dear Mr. Bush:

I very much enjoyed meeting you at lunch last Wednesday, and found it stimulating.

To confirm my previous invitation to you at the time, may I repeat it: will you be my guest at the annual Radio-Television Gallery dinner on Thursday evening, March 25?

I understand that you have already turned down an invitation to the event, but please let me know should your plans change -- even at the last moment -- for we would enjoy having you.

Yours truly,

I'll sign
